

Presenting Your Research Results

Background

Finally, after all your hard work, your research results are ready to be presented. This is your opportunity to build a reputation in international research circles. A convincing and professional presentation at an international conference is critical to your success.

Objective

In this workshop you will learn to present your research convincingly and confidently in the English language.

Target group

Scientists and researchers of all disciplines at universities and research institutes.

Content

- Gaining and maintaining audience attention: attention-getting beginnings and effective endings
- Adapting a written source to a presentation context
- Structuring your presentations clearly with discourse markers
- Improving delivery: intonation, pace, word stress
- Interacting with your audience
- Useful phrases for each stage of the presentation

Methods

Input by trainer, exercises, presentations, discussions, video-based feedback

Number of participants

Maximum 12

Language level (CEFR)

Minimum B2

Duration

2 days, usually from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

Venue

In-house at your university

Trainer

Amanda Habbershaw (native speaker)

Price

On demand

a.habbershaw@tinta-training.com

+49 (0)6341 - 9140657